FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1915

The leafy month of June has nothing on October.

The annual banquet of the Giddings Republican Club will be held in Warren Friday night. Ralph Cole, former congressman, will be the chief orator, but Congressman J. G. Cooper and other prominent gentlemen are on the speaking list.

President Wilson has issued his proclamation designating Thursday, Nov. 25, as Thanksgiving Day, calling attention to the fact that the United States has been at peace the past year while most of Europe has been at war. Verily, we as a people have much to be thankful for in this year of grace.

Mrs. Belva Lockwood of Washington, D. C., once a candidate for the Presidency, on Monday celebrated her 85th birthday anniversary. Despite her weight of years she still takes a lively interest in public affairs. She says that what most concerns her now is peace and will talk against military preparations. Older residents of Canfield have it that Mrs. Lockwood years ago was a resident of this town.

William Jennings Bryan in his tour of Ohio, speaking for state-wide prohibition, is said to be making thousands of votes for the dry cause. He is appealing to democrats especially to knock booze out of politics and correspondents traveling with him on his special train say that he is receiving telegrams from hundreds of prominent democrats in all parts of the state telling him that are through with the liquor crowd and now fighting with him for a "Dry Ohio."

YOUNGSTOWN

Oct. 28—Howling, local political Rome has begun to reverberate. It is not only colorful, but chaotic. There is here now the finest kettle of mixed-camp or the most four-square fish ever caught, cleaned and put on to boil. There is almost enough individual party internal disorder, back-capping, bullying, insinuation, hot truth and slander to make a riot seem a peace convention at The Hague. There are democratic reports and party raising—poising as pillars of loyalty while actually but pieces of punk or barnacles of perfidy. There is even some prohibition uproar, for it has been discovered men who are prohibitionist, or in any event wear prohibitionism as a badge, are to be drunk and getting bums and the black-list soaked to cast odium on the liquor business. Of course it is palpable, notorious, there is pronounced defection in republican ranks. For this credit is either rightfully or wrongfully largely given to Telegram Sammie G. McClure, who is credited with but has emphatically denied state-senatorship ambition. Then there is on the G. O. P. program that energetic actor, Pack Scanlon, who is now one of the most continuous and spectacular actors on the city's political stage or platform. Mr. Scanlon is the proprietor of a well-patronized cafe, and was one of the many a few days ago favored with a renewed retail liquor license. He is agreeable to meet and greet and is said to be cordial with the Silk-Sox contingent of the republican force and to be also directing the operations among many whose socks, if they have any at all, are so substantial and stiff they, like tubs, stand on their own bottoms. To make it all more binding there is a board-of-education ruction as well as gas gymnastics, accusations and arimony. City administrations, moves in matters moral is also an ice cutter. In this part of the argument the democrats and Hon. Wm. T. Gibson, ex-mayor and candidate for that office, seems to have the better or best of it. For it seems proven, contrary to vigorous denial that Common Pleas Judge Wm. P. Barnum and not Mayor F. A. Hartenstein ushered in the to some extent purity or reform prevailing. He and county detective John Kane and Prosecutor Henderson ask the stellar honors in the successful crusade to clean out the public houses of redlights and at least one disreputable hotel. Carroll Thornton, republican candidate for mayor, is being saddled with sins of previous administrations and with omissions and commissions of the present chief executive. Thornton, however, should be feeling somewhat elated, for the last issue of the Citizen of Web Brown and ex-Telegram Editor Edward Wright honored the mayor with a full first-page portrait. But that doesn't and won't help Mr. Thornton, against whose election some ardent democrats are offering odds. But the local prohibition fight, if it were not for Mr. Scanlon's activity for Mr. Thornton should considerably if not greatly aid him. As it is, with Pack up and going like the Bulgars in Serbia, there are prohibitionists who more than hint of a Thorntonian unity alliance. The supporters of Mr. Gibson—many of them are now saying it's all over but the shouting. In their justification they cite the republican party split for one thing and the unusually large local registration for another, contending that the most of these new voters, being foreigners, are liberals and will naturally advocate and support the democratic ticket. And there you are! You place your money and take your choice.

The saloon licenses for this city and county have been granted and are in the main renewed. Owing to an increase in population there will be eight additional places of liquid refreshment, but so far but four more licenses than heretofore have been granted. Local saloonmen and all other local dealers in the ardent assert they are confident state prohibition will be defeated next Tuesday, but the most of them admit it's going to be a close call and are doing more active work than ever in the history of the history. Last Sunday afternoon Clarence S. Darrow, formerly of this city and before that of Jefferson, is now one of the leading labor lawyers of the city, spoke in the Hippodrome and very likely made as logical and effective anti-prohibition speech as is possible. Some of the liquor men here expressed surprise the dregs did not arrange to have ex-Secretary Bryan speak here on his tour of the state with his 42 eloquent and telling orations. That he was not locally engaged is taken to mean that the state leaders hold Youngstown to be too wet to be redeemed and that to have Mr. Bryan come here would have been on his tour of the state Sunday to preach acrobatic salvation to his Satanic Majesty and his fiery realm.

There is some kicking here on account of the alleged impossibility of procuring absolutely pure buckwheat. It is said to hold here in packages, so many pounds per pack, but is rarely if ever found to be the genuine dark-hued joys of your grandfathers' days. Some of it is in fact no less than one-half corn or other grain or grains. Some say they even go so far as to adulterate it with ground-up cornbobs. But for a year or so at least some citizens have been supplied with the old reliable by Lory Shields who was and may be yet is of Boardman. He says he has about 1000 bushels and is going to have it ground and will come to the rescue of some of his many local friends.

Some of the newspapers in this city are advising the voters to cast a negative ballot on the amendment giving county officers terms of four years. They usually get two terms of two years each and no great hardship, it is argued, comes from requiring election every two years. The legislature has for years refused to extend the terms of county officers from two to four years which is significant.

Miss Loretta E. Burky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Burky, and Geo. P. and Mrs. E. Burky, were united in marriage last Saturday at their beautiful new home in Austintown township. Rev. C. H. Pendleton performing the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties. Miss Burky is among the most capable business women in the city and has long been active in religious work and every worthy cause. Mr. Thomas is identified with the Home Savings & Loan Co. The happy couple have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Great effort is being made to raise $40,000 for the new Army barracks in this city and the big clock on the Diamond which registers the contributions is being eagerly watched.

The finishing touches are being put on plans, for celebrating Hallowe'en Saturday night.

Judge W. F. Barnum has begun nine suits in common pleas court asking for $300,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by the circulation of a letter during the campaign which was signed by nine men. Other suits will follow. S. G. McClure of the Telegram and Judge W. H. Spence are sued for $50,000 each and the others for $25,000 each.

Building Inspector Knox reports a building boom in the city, many permits having been issued the past week. Indications are that next year will be the biggest ever for building operations.

Men here have made fortunes through the rise in price of Sheet & Tube Co. common stock, and they stand to make more. Brier Hill Steel Co. common has also become very active and that means big profits for holders of the stock.

GREENFORD

Oct. 28—The dregs held a street meeting here Tuesday evening. The meeting was not previously announced and as a result there were but few hearers. The speakers were H. C. Hoffman and L. L. George of Youngstown.

There was a debate in school hall Thursday evening. The question, "Resolved, That Patriotism is Declining," was ably discussed by Prof. W. H. Hoover, principal of the high school, and T. M. Robinson of Canfield in the affirmative and J. M. Justice and Prof. J. C. Skaggs of Canfield in the negative. The hall was crowded and the discussion was instructive and interesting.

A SURPRISE TO THE STATE DEPARTMENT

Investigations Said to Show Connection of Fay With Branch of German Government.

COUNTRYWIDE CONSPIRACY STILL ACTIVE

Unless Kaiser's Government Disavows Responsibility Relations Between the Countries Will Become More Acute.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The state department is understood to have called Ambassador Gerard in Berlin to ascertain immediately what connection, if any, exists between the German government and the Fay bomb plotters, under arrest in New York.

Will Become More Acute.

Unless the Kaiser's government formally disavows responsibility the relations between the countries will become more acute than at any previous time since the war began. Secret service representatives are said to disclose a connection between Fay and at least one branch of the German government.

Additional department of justice agents have been dispatched to large cities along the Atlantic seaboard, including Boston, Philadelphia and Norfolk. This action was taken on the theory that accomplices of Lieut. Fay intended dynamiting steamers leaving other ports than New York in order to divert the attention of government operatives from that field.

As soon as its men arrive on the ground to reinforce the agents already there, the department plans to have all ships in port watched day and night. Ammunition and arms are being sent on ships from Boston and Philadelphia, while grain and horses are being shipped principally from Norfolk.

Countrywide Conspiracy.

It was rumored about the White House Wednesday that President Wilson is keeping in personal touch with every development in the case. Authoritative sources in the state department also intimated the department of justice is in possession of information which conclusively proves that the countrywide conspiracy which was exposed in the Dumba case is still in active operation. It was denied at the state department, however, that any report based on papers supposed to have been taken from Andrew Meloy, Franz Rintelen's American companion when the German was captured aboard the Nordam at Plymouth, has been received.

The report of the department of justice upon the continued activity of the plotters unmasked, with the Dumba disclosures, is said to have been a complete surprise to the state department. Until the report of the department of justice was handed to the state department it was taken for granted that the prompt action taken in forcing Dr. Dumba's recall had dealt a body blow to the conspiracy to conduct United States ports based on operations against any of the belligerents.

Exports on Increase.

UNITED STATES PRODUCERS HAVE INCREASED SHIPMENTS TO SOUTH AMERICA.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The commerce department has just made public figures which show that United States producers have increased their exports to South America, as well as to neutrals in Europe. In the eight months ended Sept. 1, they shipped $21,077,463 worth of goods to Brazil, as compared with $15,973,222 the year previous; $31,149,868 to Argentina, as compared with $19,648,591 the year before, and made corresponding increases to other South American countries.

The report showed that from five to seven times as much goods went to Norway, Sweden and the Netherlands this year as last.

Elect Officers.

Columbus, Oct. 28.—Mrs. Lucy Bold of Canal Dover was elected worthy grand matron of the grand chapter, Order Eastern Star. Mrs. Bold succeeds Mrs. Cora Griswold of Geneva. Charles C. Ware of Toledo was elected worthy grand patron and Mrs. Maud Glimmer of Niles, associate grand matron. Other officers will be elected today. The session of the grand chapter last night was given over to memorial services and exemplification of the ritual.

Wife Gone, Kills Self.

Columbus, Oct. 28.—Mrs. L. A. Switzer of New Philadelphia, who was in attendance here at the sessions of the grand chapter of Ohio, Order of the Eastern Star, received a telegram notifying her of the death of her husband. He had been in ill health for some time and in the absence of his wife committed suicide by drowning.

Rode 'Blind Baggage' Crushed.

Sandusky, O., Oct. 28.—John Robinson, 34, Utica, N. Y., was probably fatally crushed in the New York Central yards here between two cars while riding "blind baggage" from Toledo to Cleveland. He was taken to Providence hospital. He was out of work.

Suicides by Drowning.

New Philadelphia, O., Oct. 28.—Otto A. Switzer, 58, committed suicide Wednesday by drowning himself in the Tuscarawas river. Ill health is supposed to be the cause. He is survived by a wife and six children.

Two Children Had Croup.

The two children of J. W. Nix, Cleveland, Ga., had croup. He writes: "Both got so choked up they could hardly breathe. I gave them Foley's Honey and Tar and nothing else and it completely cured them." Contains no opiates. Cuts the phlegm; opens air passages. F. A. Morris, Canfield—Adv.

Profit in Business

arises from keeping the expenses of the business below the earnings.

The man who keeps his personal expenses below his personal earnings is as a rule more competent to manage a business than the one whose earnings are all consumed by his expenses. A man should show a profit from his own income before he assumes the management of the income of another.

SALEM

All the farm implements, stock, crops, etc., on the Steiner farm, south of the city, which was purchased for the home for aged German men, women and orphans have been sold to the new owners. Geo. Yunk of Niles takes charge Nov. 1 as farm manager.

It will be of no avail for Salem to make further effort to secure the proposed state normal school in the eastern part of the state. The word has gone out that no city or town having saloons can secure the institution. This leaves only Wellsville, Lisbon, East Palestine and Columbiana in the running. Many people in this section favor the latter place.

W. H. Fultz, active in the business affairs of the city for 35 years, died last Friday after an illness dating from the first of the year. He was 69 years of age.

The new electric car used on the Y. & S. was shown in this city last week. It is a most modern car and will be run between Youngstown and Leetonia.

The Moose lodge will take charge of its new quarters in rooms over the old postoffice building the middle of next week. New furniture and other equipment will be in place by that time.

People here are counting much on what the new rubber plant will do for the city.

The Buckeye Engine Co. has increased its capital from $300,000 to $400,000. The plant is now rushed with orders.

A fight last Sunday in the foreign quarter of the city resulted in several men getting severe beatings and arrests were made on charge of an assault with intent to kill.

Mrs. Wm. Eastman, formerly of this city, died Sunday in Burlington, Ia., aged 78. Three children survive her. The remains were here for burial Wednesday morning in Hope cemetery.

The tabernacle is to be used for the revival meetings the first of the coming year will be erected at the corner of East Green street and Ellsworth avenue.

W. H. Mullin banqueted more than 300 members of the chamber of commerce at the Elks' rooms last Friday night.

Wells will probably be drilled to furnish the city an additional water supply. This must be done or a reservoir will have to be constructed at a cost of $300,000.

John Gamble, a carpenter-contractor for years a resident of this city, died Friday night in Alliance, where he was building a house, aged 65. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon with burial in Hope cemetery.

Rev. L. R. Williamson has resigned as pastor of the First Baptist church to accept a call to Cornish, N. Y.

There will be a monster parade of the dregs in this city Saturday night.

John L. Resler, aged 72, died Wednesday from the effects of a stroke of apoplexy. He was never married. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Jas. Nelson and Miss Tena of this city, and three brothers, Jerry and Frank Resler of Hickory. Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock will be in charge of the Odd Fellows of which order deceased was a member.

Nearly all kinds of drugs continue to do the price soaring act.

BERLIN CENTER

Oct. 27—Mrs. Chester Harmon will leave shortly for South Dakota to spend several weeks with an aunt who is nearly 90 years of age. Mrs. Curt Kale of Cleveland will keep house for Mr. Harmon in her absence.

Carl Dustman of Ravenna is visiting at Mrs. Bradshaw's.

Mrs. Dal Smith's condition is not much improved.

Mrs. Margaret Thompson is very ill, suffering from dropsy and heart trouble. Miss Nora Taylor of New Waterford is caring for her.

Mrs. Mary Bradshaw will spend the winter with friends in different places. The little son of Mrs. Lugin Kline is slowly recovering from his illness.

Earl Orr was in Salem Friday.

A masquerade social will be held in the school auditorium Friday evening and will be along the line of a Hallowe'en celebration. A general invitation is extended.

The pumpkin pie social held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society was well attended and greatly enjoyed.

Elk Rakestraw and family and Mrs. Rakestraw's parents motored to Youngstown last Sunday and visited I. M. Harrell and family.

On account of the torn up condition of the roads there is not so much travel through this place as usual.

A scarcity of chestnut and hickory nuts is reported. There are some walnuts and butternuts.

Farmers have commenced to husk corn. The crop is much larger than was hoped for when wet weather made planting very late.

When riches take unto themselves wings they seldom enable us to reach our castles in the air.
